Sustainable Development Minister announces new Assistant Deputy Minister

IQALUIT, Nunavut (February 28, 2000) – Sustainable Development Minister Peter Kilabuk is pleased to announce that Mr. Peter Ittinuar has accepted the position of Assistant Deputy Minister.

“Many Nunavummiut are aware of Mr. Ittinuar’s experience and understanding of Nunavut issues,” Minister Kilabuk said. “His recent work in policy development combined with his earlier work in training and development make him well suited to this position.”

Mr. Ittinuar was hired as ADM following a Nunavut-wide staffing competition and will assume his new position March 1. Mr. Ittinuar is currently Acting Director of Policy and Legislation for the Department of Sustainable Development. He has been working to develop Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit principles for Department programs and policies. He has also been serving as a legislative coordinator for the Department.

“Mr. Ittinuar has spent the last two years helping to build the new department and his dedication and experience will be extremely valuable as we work towards implementing the Government of Nunavut’s Bathurst Mandate,” Minister Kilabuk said.
