Right to Know Week

September 24, 2012 Iqaluit, NU

30 sec

It is Right to Know Week in Canada and the Government of Nunavut wants to spread the word to all Nunavummiut that they have a right to access their own personal information and have a right to access information held by the government.

The purpose of Right to Know Week is to raise awareness of an individual's right to access information held by governments as a way to encourage openness, transparency, and good government.

If you would like to access information from the government, or have more questions about your right to know, please visit the Government of Nunavut website at www.gov.nu.ca and check out the Access to Information and Privacy link on the right hand side OR call us at 867-975-6044

From September 24 to September 28, 2012 ask questions and get informed. You have a right to know! Call 867-975-6044.
