End Date: February 24, 2022

Nunavut-wide

60 sec

As part of this year's Uqausirmut Quviasuutiqarniq, Inuktitut Language Month activities, Inuinnaqtun, Inuktitut Roman Orthography, and the Inuktitut enhanced language model, were incorporated into the Microsoft translator.

The Department of Community and Government Services in collaboration with the Department of Culture and Heritage and Microsoft, is offering a free Microsoft Translator course to the public. You can learn how to use and access these supported languages through M365 Office products such as Outlook, Teams, Word and more.

This 60-minute course will be a Microsoft Teams Live Event with opportunity at the end for questions and answers. You do not need a Microsoft Teams account to join. Simply click on this link February 24 at 2 p.m. EST. A recording of the live course will be available on demand for 180 days. It can be accessed at <https://aka.ms/MicrosoftTranslator-Feb24> after the course is complete.

To preserve the Inuktitut language through technology is to promote the use of Inuktitut everyday, whether it be at home, in the office or around the world.
