Santa cleared to fly across Nunavut

Start Date: December 22, 2025
End Date: December 25, 2025
Nunavut-wide 60 sec

Nunavut Emergency Management (NEM) is issuing a holiday update for Nunavummiut ahead of Christmas Eve.

NEM has coordinated with Santa to review his winter readiness plan for his journey across Nunavut. Santa's preparations include ensuring his sleigh and travel gear are prepared for the conditions he will encounter across the North.

Santa has also signed out a public-access SPOT device for his travels, and Nunavut search-and-rescue teams will be standing by as they are for anyone travelling on the land at this time of year.

Santa has also received his reindeer transport permit and now, with his preparations complete, he is anticipated to travel safely through Nunavut on Christmas Eve.

As communities come together to celebrate, NEM encourages Nunavummiut to enjoy the holiday season safely – whether travelling, visiting family, or spending time at home. Taking simple steps to stay prepared and aware of changing conditions helps keep everyone safe during this busy time of the year.

Residents can follow Santa's journey on December 24 at www.noradsanta.org/en/.

NEM wishes all Nunavummiut a joyful and safe holiday season.
