Celebrating Nunavut Education Week

Start Date: October 6, 2025
End Date: October 11, 2025
Nunavut-wide 90 sec

It's Nunavut Education Week! This is a great opportunity to recognize the essential role education plays in the lives of students and Nunavummiut, not only in academic development, but also in strengthening the social fabric of communities across the territory.

This year's theme – "Ilinniaqta, Ilagijauniq, and Inuuqatigiitsiarniq" or "Learning, Connections, and Relationships" – highlights the transformative power of learning through meaningful ties among students, educators, families, Elders, communities, and the land.

Through the Katujjiluta mandate, the Government of Nunavut emphasizes working together to create a better future for all Nunavummiut, with education serving as a path to fostering relationships across generations and communities. Schools create opportunities for intergenerational learning, cultural preservation, and mutual understanding by serving as gathering places where Elders, youth, educators, and families can make meaningful connections.

As we look ahead, our vision is that education in Nunavut will continue to empower young people to be fluent in Inuktut, confident in identity, and fully capable of leading their institutions, communities, and the territory toward greater self-reliance and prosperity.

Please join us in celebrating education as a means to a stronger Nunavut!
