National Social Work Month

Start Date: March 13, 2026
End Date: March 31, 2026
Nunavut-wide 60 sec

This March, the Department of Family Services invites Nunavummiut to celebrate National Social Work Month.

This year's theme, "Social Work: Compassion + Action", reflects how our community social service workers and family resource workers do their jobs every day. They are in your community to help children, youth and families find a way through some of the most challenging times in their lives. Even when making tough decisions, Family Services social workers choose care, respect and compassion to make a positive difference in the lives of Nunavummiut.

Family Services is making some changes to support social workers and improve the services they provide by:

- Hiring more social workers so they can start supporting families earlier, before problems become emergencies.
- Improving our systems so social workers can spend more time with people and less time on paperwork.
- Increasing Inuit Societal Values training to ensure programs and services are culturally grounded, more responsive and more effective for Nunavummiut.
