The Department of Community Services invites all Nunavummiut to join us in recognizing National Seal Products Day on May 20, 2026.

We encourage Nunavummiut to show their support by wearing or displaying seal products on May 20. This simple act helps celebrate Inuit traditions and supports local harvesters and artisans across Nunavut.

Throughout the coming year, the department will work to further increase awareness, expand opportunities and highlight the importance of sealing to Nunavut's culture, food security, sovereignty and economic future.

These increased efforts will build momentum toward the Nunavut Sealing Summit in February 2027. This event plans to bring together partners and industry leaders to advance sealing as a sustainable and critical sector for Nunavut, with a focus on meaningful development and a vision that remains culturally rooted.

Let's come together to recognize National Seal Products Day and support the future of Nunavut's sealing economy.

For more information about sealing, visit the Sealing page on the Government of Nunavut website.
